

JFK's Rights Compromise Is Accepted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee approved today an administration-backed compromise civil rights bill. The vote was 20-14.

The final vote which sends the bill on its way to the House floor came after an earlier defeat of a tougher bill backed by some liberals on the committee.

Meeting shortly after President Kennedy had conferred with House leaders of both parties, the committee rejected by a 19-15 vote a bill the administration contended was too stiff to get through Congress.

It then began consideration of a milder, but still wide-ranging bill that is stronger in some respects than the original administration proposal. The bill was worked out by the administration during the last few days in close collaboration with key House Republicans.

Although some supporters of the defeated bill, which was drafted by a judiciary subcommittee claimed it could have been passed, others conceded the new proposals have a better chance of passage.

At the White House meeting, Kennedy as reported to have told Democratic and Republican House leaders he expected them to work together to move the compromise bill smoothly through the House.

It was not immediately clear whether the committee would reach a vote today on the new package. When the meeting began many members had not even seen it.

For the past week, Kennedy and his aides have been working with House leaders and Judiciary Committee members in an effort to develop a compromise bill acceptable to both.

Mrs. Nhu Keeps Them All Busy

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The feminine unpredictability of petite Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu has caused almost as much excitement in San Francisco as when the Giants won the National League baseball championship in 1952.

The sister-in-law of President Diem of South Viet Nam has kept her harried hosts guessing by changing and reneging her schedule almost as frequently as her exotic oriental dresses since her arrival Sunday night.

For instance, she scheduled, canceled and rescheduled Monday, all within a few hours, a speech engagement at the University of California campus today.

She then cancelled a speech scheduled for Monday night in San Francisco.

Earlier Mrs. Nhu gave a speech and a news conference. And her 18-year-old daughter, Le Thu, held a surprise news conference.

A security force of more than 75 San Francisco policemen specially assigned to Mrs. Nhu and her party kept close watch on about 20 anti-Nhu pickets outside the hotel where she was staying.

Mrs. Nhu originally canceled her university appearance, she said, on the advice of police because of threatened massive picketing.

It was believed that Mrs. Nhu would head home to Saigon from San Francisco. But late Monday night, word came from Los Angeles that she had accepted an invitation to speak to the Los Angeles County Young Republicans Wednesday night.

4.9 Million Visit Parks in Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Attendance at Arkansas state parks will easily reach the five million figure predicted last spring by Parks Director Bryan Stearns.

Stearns released today the visitor count through Oct. 15 and the total was 4,946,320, compared to 4,141,320 for all of last year.

Petit Jean remained the most visited park with an attendance of 672,250 this year, a gain of 78,000.

Several parks, however, are edging close to Petit Jean, once the unchallenged king of state parks.

Lake Catherine Park near Hot Springs has had 475,820 visitors for second place. Crowley's Ridge Park near Forrest City has had 450,890. Devils Den near Fayetteville 429,600. Lake Chicot near Lake Village 405,210. Buffalo River near Marshall 394,280. Bull Shoals near Mountain Home 390,620 and Queen Wilhelmina near Mena, 385,420.

The reports list only visitors at 15 parks. It does not include attendance at several less developed parks.

Success Makes Most Folks Happy and Julie Andrews Is Certainly No Exception

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Two of the rarest things in show business are a modest operatic tenor—and a happy actress.

But English actress Julie Andrews right now is dwelling on a peak of ecstasy.

"I'm happier than I have ever been in my life—and I've had a very happy life," she proclaimed, attacking a luncheon plate of eggs Benedict.

The sources of her joy are threefold — marriage, motherhood and career. All are flourishing.

Julie came here to complete a film. With her came her husband and childhood sweetheart, producer Tony Walton, and their chubby-cheeked daughter, Emma Kale, who is in the learning to walk and spilling food on the floor stage.

Motherhood has brought to maturity the bloom of beauty which shone in Julie's performance as the Coeney lass in "My Fair Lady," which she sang over 1,500 times here and in London.

She is reconciled now to the fact that Audrey Hepburn was picked to play the film role. Her own career is full of so

Budget Good But They Want to Up Debt

By EDMOND LE BRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury told Congress today the budget outlook as improved by almost $1 billion. Yet it asked that the national debt limit be raised from $309 billion to $315 billion through June 30.

Secretary Douglas Dillon testified before the House Ways and Means Committee that the present outlook is for a $9-billion deficit for the government year that began July 1 instead of the $11.9-billion deficit President Kennedy forecast in January.

Dillon said it now appears that tax revenues will be $1.9 billion more than was estimated in January.

Dillon faced critical questioning by Republican members about the need for a higher debt ceiling. GOP leaders, pressing a campaign against what they call the administration's extravagance, have said they may try to block any immediate increase.

But Dillon said, "I cannot contemplate any lower debt limit" than $315 billion. "The risks are simply too great," he added. The government, in most recent years, has had to borrow money to pay its bills because spending outstripped revenues.

Dillon said the debt stands today at $307.4 billion and that it will reach $308 billion by mid-November. If Congress does not act by Nov. 30, the debt limit drops automatically to $285 billion.

While figures submitted by Dillon and Budget Director Kenneth Gordon showed some spending cuts by the administration, Dillon credited most of the budget improvement to action by Congress and business gains.

Seek Cause of Missile Failure

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Air Force demonstrators today sought the cause of the sixth straight failure of an Atlas missile.

The rocket tumbled out of control shortly after it was launched Monday night in an attempt to boost a deceptive new warhead on a 5,500-mile flight.

The warhead was tapered to reduce the image which might appear on an enemy radar screen.

The failure followed five straight Atlas fizzes at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif. Officials had no explanation for the failures.

Child Unhurt, Mother Killed

FORT OGLETHORPE, Ga. (AP)—Mrs. Hoyle Turner, 38, panicked when her car began rolling down her driveway with her 16-month-old son inside.

She reached the car after it sped across the street and was pinned by the vehicle against a tree.

She was killed. The little boy was unhurt.

17 Cotton Pickers Hurt in Accident

A pickup truck loaded with cotton pickers went out of control and overturned this morning near the Joe Wilson place just inside the Howard County line. About 16 were injured.

Six were brought to a Hope hospital for treatment of cuts and bruises and possible other injuries. None appeared to be critical. However, St. Joe Police Sgt. Guy Downing said that of the 11 taken to a Nashville hospital three were critically hurt.

The truck was owned by Huddie Murrow and driven by Uly (Sonny) Huff of Columbus. He has been charged with reckless driving. The vehicle was demolished.

All the riders were from the Columbus area. Treated here were Norman Jean Brown, 20; Margaret Brown, 27; Mary Flowers 13; Trudie Cheatham, 65; Bernice Stuart, 29 and Lucille Cheatham, 39.

Negro Sought in Death of Wife Gives Up

ASHDOWN, A.R.K. (AP)—Bruce Howard, 28, a Negro of Ogden was charged with murder late Monday in the slaying of his wife Sunday.

Howard surrendered to Sheriff Audrey Thrash Monday after a two-day manhunt in the Ogden area, eight miles south of Ashdown.

His wife was knifed in the stomach and throat and shot twice with a shotgun at her home in Ogden.

Thrash said Howard threatened to kill the man his wife had been dating and his wife's mother and grandmother, and then take his own life.

Prosecutor Ben Core filed the first degree murder charge in Little River Circuit Court. He said a hearing will be held later this week.

Howard, heavily armed, fled into a wooded area near Ogden after the slaying and hid in a barn Sunday night. His father, Rosie Howard, found him Monday and persuaded him to surrender.

Faubus Aide Criticizes Rep. Croxton

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Benton County Rep. Hardy Croxton drew criticism from gubernatorial aide William J. Smith Monday for claiming that Arkansas has had no reforms of any kind for many years.

Smith, outlined to 100 Arkansas tax assessors and deputies at the annual Tax Assessors Institute legislation which he said dealt with reform.

Smith said he was sorry that Croxton, a potential gubernatorial candidate, had not recognized the measures as reform legislation. He said Croxton had voted for some of them.

Smith listed reform measures on city manager government, securities regulations and improvements to state services.

He also cited the 1955 assessment equalization program as an example of a major reform in the taxing system and praised the assessors for their handling of the program.

Tax assessors have one of the most important jobs in state government because Arkansas' primary source of revenue is the property tax, he said.

Smith said sales taxes produced $62,174,000 last year in revenues while property taxes brought in $73,239,000.

Smith said 81 per cent of all property is locally assessed.

The assessors' meet continues today.

Ginny Brings Some Relief to New England

BOSTON (AP) — Hurricane Ginny brought relief from a prolonged drought in eastern New England today and flirited with the coast as it headed in a northeasterly direction.

There was a possibility sections of eastern Maine might feel a strong punch from the meandering storm.

The erratic hurricane was expected to pass along the coast of Nova Scotia, its main threat to New England reduced to gale winds.

At Nantucket, the winds were from the north-northwest 40 miles an hour with gusts up to 55.

Tides generally were a couple of feet above normal on Cape Cod.

As she moved up the Atlantic Coast, Ginny brushed past eastern Long Island in New York and then turned seaward.

Nantucket got the heaviest rainfall with 2.58 inches in the 24 hours ending at 7 a.m. The

River Work Depends on Compromise

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Arkansas River Navigation project may grind to a halt unless the House and Senate can reach a compromise next month.

River basin projects in 19 other states are also jeopardized because the two legislative bodies can't decide how much money each wants to appropriate for them.

Army Engineers said unless a compromise is reached, they will begin notifying contractors Dec. 1 of a possible shutdown.

Each chamber has passed its own bill—neither of which is acceptable to the other.

Funds already appropriated for the projects will begin to run out next month, with the cutoff date on the Arkansas project early in January.

Usually Congress appropriates funds every few years to carry projects already under way and new projects for extended periods.

The House version of the appropriations bill would carry work on the Arkansas River and other projects already under construction through July 1, 1965.

Senate version limits appropriations to one year and adds several controversial new projects.

The House, in an effort to end the deadlock, recently passed a second bill providing increased one-year authorizations for seven jeopardized projects.

This bill included $31 million for the Arkansas River project and would carry it through July 1, 1964.

The original Bill called for $157 million for the Arkansas project through 1965.

Leader of the fight in the Senate, Sen. Pat McNamara, D-Mich., chairman of the Senate Public Works Committee, insists on the Senate version of some modification of it.

But pressure is beginning to build up in the Senate as Senators in the states affected begin agitating for something to be done to prevent work stoppages.

Judge Will Take Stand in Libel Case

MORRILLTON, Ark. (AP) — Conway County Judge Tom Scott is expected to resume testimony today as his own witness in a $200,000 libel suit against Gene Wirges, publisher of the Morrilton Democrat.

Scott was the first witness in the trial in which he is seeking damages for an article in the July 4, 1963 edition of the Morrilton Democrat.

The trial opened Monday with Chancellor Paul H. Williams sitting in relief of Circuit Judge Wiley Bean.

Bean, 71, requested that he be excused from hearing the case because he had heard 70 lawsuits since Oct. 1 and needed a rest.

During testimony Monday, Wirges' attorney, G. Thomas Eisele, said the article did not refer to Scott but instead to Sheriff Marlin Hawkins, who is not involved in the suit.

Williams refused a change of venue in the trial and overruled a motion to quash the jury panel.

Eisele contended Bean, who heard another libel suit against Wirges last week, was prejudiced against Wirges.

In that trial a jury awarded County Clerk C. C. Brewer $75,000 damages.

Life Sentences Are Reduced

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The life sentences of two convicts were reduced and the terms of five other prisoners commuted Monday by Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

The life sentence given Will Appleberry, 48, Dec. 26, 1951 in Pulaski Circuit Court for the murder of Dudley Thomas in North Little Rock was reduced to five years.

The sentence of Walter P. Hild, 41, of Hot Springs, for the murder of his wife Betty was reduced to 45 years. Hild was sentenced Jan. 14, 1948 in Garland Circuit Court.

Routing of Pioneer Trail to Be Made

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Final routing of the proposed 1,800-mile Ozarks Pioneer Trail through four states will be worked out Wednesday at a meeting in Hot Springs.

State representatives of the governors of Arkansas, Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri will get together on where the scenic, historic trail should run.

Lou Oberster, publicity director for the Arkansas Publicity and Parks Commission, released today the proposed Arkansas route.

The governors of the four states will have to approve the route before the states can proceed with marking and promoting the trail.

The idea of the Ozarks Pioneer Trail was suggested to the governors at a recent meeting in Bartlesville, Okla., by the American Petroleum Institute.

The governors bought the idea immediately and their staff representatives already have held a preliminary meeting to work out a route.

The main trail will run as far east as St. Louis, as far north as Kansas City, as far west as Wichita, Kan., and as far south as De Queen, Ark.

The Arkansas segment, as worked out by Oberster, would enter Arkansas at Mammoth Spring and leave the state finally west of De Queen.

It would run westward along the northern border of the state, swing southward down Highway 7, then eastward to Little Rock and westward again from Little Rock through Hot Springs and Mena to De Queen.

It would have secondary loops to carry the tourist through the so-called folklore center of the state at Mt. View, the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville, the Arkansas River Valley between Russellville and Fort Smith and the diamond mine area near Murfreesboro.

Oberster said sponsors of the trail hope to have it marked and ready by the beginning of the tourist season next spring.

The Petroleum Institute will undertake preparation of a promotional brochure and the signs which it will sell to the states at cost.

Negroes in Philadelphia Protesting

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Hundreds of Negroes surged through a North Philadelphia neighborhood Monday night protesting the slaying of a Negro by a policeman. Many of them broke windows, looted stores or menaced white drivers, authorities said.

Policemen estimated about 500 Negroes rioted through the streets before they were dispersed by about 60 policemen. Shattered glass littered the streets until garbage trucks and street cleaners moved in this morning.

Twenty-three persons, 19 of them minors, were arrested on charges of malicious mischief, disorderly conduct or breach of the peace.

Frank Johnson, 38, a policeman, was struck on the head by a milk bottle while trying to break up one mob. He fell to the ground unconscious and was taken to a hospital.

Other policemen were pelted with stones or bottles but none required treatment.

The neighborhood has been tense since Saturday's slaying of Willie Philpaw Jr., 24, a Negro. Philpaw said he was shot by patrolman John Tourigian after lunging with a knife at the officer. The policeman who is white, told authorities he was arresting Philpaw for shoplifting.

Survey Shows Public Against Paving Project

Returns of a survey of all property owners who would get paving under the proposed street and drainage program, and therefore the ones who would have to pay a part of the costs, indicate that about 60% of these property owners were opposed to the project, according to Mayor Frank Douglas.

An attempt was made to get a card to every property owner who would be affected, and a letter accompanied the card explaining that the project would be abandoned unless it met with a majority of the property owners that were scheduled to receive paving and storm sewer.

The Mayor said that a great many of the people objected because of the cost of the improvements. Building curb and gutter streets on a good base is expensive, but a large part of the cost included was for storm sewer which, in some cases, equals or exceeds the cost of the paving.

A high per cent of the people who now have a blacktopped street just didn't want to go to the expense of rebuilding to include curb and gutter. Where curb and gutter type streets are built, it is almost essential that the water be carried in a storm sewer system.

A great many others objected because of the method of paying for it. They felt that all properties in the area would benefit and there should be some method of assessing some of the costs to properties in the area which would not receive paving but would benefit by the improvements. However, under the Arkansas law governing improvement districts, it would be difficult to assess such secondary benefits.

The Mayor said that he felt

Students Held for Tire Slashing

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Three former college students, accused of causing more than $5,000 in damage on a tire slashing spree Oct. 14, were sentenced Monday to contact personally over 100 owners of damaged autos.

Justice Ellsworth Gump found the trio guilty on charges of vagrancy and malicious destruction of property. He sentenced them to a year in jail, with all but 90 days suspended.

The youths—Michael L. Skovron, 20, Great Falls, Mont., Edward M. McElligott, 19, Anchorage, Alaska, and Phillip J. Sheridan, 18, Everett, Wash.—will serve 60 days of the sentence in jail.

The other 30 days they will split up, each taking a third of the owners of the 250 tires slashed. They will contact the owners, according to the sentence, to arrange for restitution.

They were earlier dropped from Gonzaga University here.

Injuries Still Plague the Porkers

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Injuries continued to plague the Arkansas Razorbacks Monday as they prepared to return to Southwest Conference action Saturday against Texas A&M at Little Rock.

Razorback trainer Bill Ferrell reported it was very unlikely that starting quarterback Jon Brittenum or end Jim Finch would get to play.

Ferrell matched bad news with good news when he said starting fullback Jim Lindsey would probably return for Saturday's game.

Brittenum and Finch were injured in last Saturday's game with Tulsa. Brittenum suffered a side injury and Finch a strained elbow.

Lindsey was knocked out of action during practice last week when he suffered thigh bruise which turned into a charley horse. He did not play against Tulsa.

Tailback George Rea Walker was permanently eliminated from play this season when his left knee was operated on Monday. This was Walker's second knee operation in two years. His first was for an injured right knee.

Foss declined to name the teams who were in the black but made it clear that New York and Oakland still are on the losing side of the ledger.

Knicks Trade Pair for College Star

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Knicks of the National Basketball Association announced today they had traded Gene Shue and Paul Hogue to the Baltimore Bullets for Billy McGill.

McGill, the nation's leading collegiate scorer with Utah in 1962, was somewhat of a disappointment with Chicago last year before the Chicago franchise was shifted to Baltimore.

It was the second deal within a week for the Knicks who are adopting a youth movement after winning only 21 of 80 games last season. In the first they sold Richie Guerin to St. Louis and got Tom Hoover, former Villanova star, from Philadelphia on waivers.

Hogue, 6-foot-9 like McGill, starred on Cincinnati's national collegiate champions several years ago and was the Knicks' No. 1 draft choice last season.

Shue, a 6-foot-2 veteran who once starred with the Detroit Pistons, had planned to retire but signed with the Knicks last week.

Texas Remains Nation's Top Football Team

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer
Texas still is No. 1 in college football, but who's No. 2? The ballots says Illinois but the voters are in sharp disagreement.

One member of the Associated Press football board of sports writers and broadcasters put it this way: "Snow White Texas No. 1, followed by the following dwarfs."

The Texas Longhorns, who won their sixth game of the season by the rather close score of 10-6 against dangerous Rice, received 49 first place votes and two seconds from the 51 AP board members voting. That gave them 508 points of a possible 510 on the basis of 10 for a first-place vote, nine for second, etc. down to one for 10th.

Illinois got one vote for first, and the bulk of the seconds, 19, but was listed at every spot except ninth. Navy, which drew the other first place vote, was named for each of the other nine places at least twice. Auburn, Alabama and Wisconsin received votes for every place from two through 10. Votes for Mississippi, which wound up third, and for Oklahoma were almost as widely scattered.

Illinois drew a total of 538 points to become a distant second to Texas. Mississippi received 306 points for third while Navy beat out Auburn 278-266 for fourth. Others in the thoroughly shaken-up Top Ten listing were Oklahoma, Alabama, Wisconsin, Ohio State and Pittsburgh.

Illinois and Ole Miss had been fourth and fifth a week ago and Navy 10th while Wisconsin and Pitt had held the second and third spots. Wisconsin dropped to eighth after a 13-10 loss to Ohio State, which returned to the Top Ten after a two weeks absence. Pitt, after its 24-12 beating by Navy, barely edged re-surgent Southern California, the 1962 national champion, for the last place. Northwestern, suffering its second Big Ten defeat, 15-7 to Michigan State, dropped out of the Top Ten.

Illinois moved up on the strength of its 18-12 Friday night victory over UCLA and Mississippi whipped Vanderbilt 27-7 Saturday. Each is undefeated but has played one tie. Unbeaten Auburn was idle last week but advanced from eighth to fifth.

Oklahoma and Alabama exchanged places, the Sooners going up and the Tide down, although both won. Oklahoma walked Kansas State 34-9 while Alabama had some trouble subduing Houston 21-13.

The top ten teams and points:

	Pts.
1. Texas	508
2. Illinois	358
3. Mississippi	306
4. Navy	278
5. Auburn	266
6. Oklahoma	246
7. Alabama	213
8. Wisconsin	181
9. Ohio State	83
10. Pittsburgh	76

Others receiving votes, listed alphabetically: Arkansas, Army, Baylor, Georgia Tech, Louisiana State, Memphis State, Michigan State, Missouri, Nebraska, North Carolina, North Carolina State, Northwestern, Penn State, Princeton, Purdue, Southern California, Syracuse.

Cotton-Hank to Battle in Michigan

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—Two aging veterans with a zinging punch, Eddie Cotton of Seattle and Henry Hank of Detroit, will battle here tonight for the Michigan-only "world" light heavyweight championship.

Michigan's Boxing Commission will recognize the winner of the 15-round bout in Flint's Jma Auditorium as king of the division, but this won't affect world champion Willie Pastrano's status elsewhere.

Cotton, who has scored 21 knockouts in his 62 pro fights, is favored to beat Hank who, at 28, is four years younger than Cotton.

Hank also is no slouch when it comes to chilling his opponents. The Detroit sharpshooter has flattened 37 of his 74 rivals. The World Boxing Association lists Cotton as Pastrano's top challenger and ranks Hank sixth in the division.

Cotton's adviser, George Chermers, has indicated he will have a pre-rig skirmish with Dave Gudelzky, the state boxing commissioner, over Michigan's rest-period rule. Fighters must rest 90 seconds, rather than the usual 60 seconds, between rounds.

Michigan imposed the rule after the death of Benny Kid Paret.

Chermers said he was not aware of the stipulation when the Cotton-Hank contracts were signed in August. Had he known of the 90-second rule, Chermers said, he probably would have

AGAINST PAVING SEWAGE PROJECT

Editor The Star: Some time ago a Town Hall meeting was called by the City Manager and Board of Directors of the City of Hope, to present to the Property owners of Ward 1 a proposed plan of street improvement district.

This meeting was well attended by between 600 to 700 people, all interested Citizens that own property in this proposed area.

I believe that I can safely say that 95% of the property owners in attendance were definitely opposed to the plan submitted and expressed themselves very positively.

Petitions were presented to us at the door for signature and they were passed up by practically all in attendance.

Now there is a mailing campaign being conducted out of a local attorney's office. A letter costing five cents to mail, including a four cent post card with three options to mark on the proposed paving district. Who is paying this cost. The Tax payer as usual.

Could not the originators of this idea see that the property owners are opposed to this particular plan of mortgage and increased taxation on our homes. With all of Main and Elm street as well as most of the business property down Town cut out of the proposed plan, This would leave all of the obligations of the Improvement District to be paid by the property owners within the so called designated area of work.

We were told at the meeting that if there was not any work done in front of our property that it would not cost anything, but yet this property owner would have the privilege of signing the petition to shoulder the remaining property owners with the mortgage and obligations of all of this indebtedness. I ask you, is this right and fair. Who uses the streets of Hope, just a few of us property owners, or do all the citizens of Hope use the streets.

Frankly, I am not against any improvements of our City that are needed and should be made. But I am opposed to the particular type of plan submitted and the way of financing. They tell us that the work would be done on a contract bidding basis. Who knows who would get the contract and how many local people would be employed. I remember when the first streets of Hope were paved, work was done by the Kaw Paving Company of Kaw, Kansas, and some few people in Hope were employed as shovel hands and common labor, the rest of the employees were brought in from out of Town to do the most of the work.

There is so much more cost involved than shows up in the actual work of paving, curb and gutter, for just a few items as engineering supervision during construction, Commissioners fees, Attorney's fees, Interest on 20 years of financing & etc.

We were told at the City Hall meeting that the City of Hope had $128,000.00 in surplus profits from the city distribution of water and lights and this would be used in this project. And that within another year or so this amount could be doubled from future accumulations. This money was paid in by all of the Citizens of Hope. Why could it not be used to take on a smaller project and complete, with local supervision and all local labor and partially maintain some of the streets that have been built and help paid for by property owners.

Example of proposed plan in regard to cost of curb and gutter by my own home.

Property owners cost per 50 feet street frontage: $16.00
In case of corner lot-side street-1/2 of cost: front footage: Size of lot: 125 ft. front: Cost of front: $40.00
175 side st., cost of side st. $20.00

Total cost per year: $60.00
Total cost to me: 20 year mortgage on property $1,200.00
As per their figures: Total of overall cost to be borne by the property owner: 40 per cent of each dollar spent 60 per cent cost: spent by usage of City and federal Government $1,800.00
As per their own figures the total cost of curb and gutter around my property in this overall plan of my 40% and their 60% of each dollar spent called off the bout. Gudelzky said he would discuss Chermers' complaint with him before the bell rings at 9 p.m. EST, tonight.

A beef by Baxter led to Gudelzky's decision to declare the Cotton-Hank scrap a title fight.

Hank was unable to go through with a scheduled championship bout with Harold Johnson earlier this year because of a training injury. Pastrano replaced Hank and whipped Johnson.

parties. The administration has feared that the bill approved by the subcommittee could not win passage.

The President presented the new proposals, worked out with key House Republicans, to committee Democrats at the White House Monday.

He urged they be accepted in place of the more drastic measure put together in a judiciary subcommittee by a Northern liberal group of both parties.

The compromise is said to include provision for creation of a fair employment practices commission but without the enforcement powers contained in the subcommittee bill.

And it is reported to exempt retail stores from provisions to ban racial discrimination in public facilities related to interstate commerce.

Kennedy's original civil rights package did not include a fair employment commission but Negro civil rights leaders have urged Congress to adopt one.

The new proposals are based on intense negotiations between the administration and key House Republicans, and are designed to win broad bipartisan support. The administration fears the subcommittee bill could not command such support and would be doomed without it.

The committee meets today. It is due to vote on a motion to approve the subcommittee bill and defeat of the motion is essential to the administration plans.

Members who attended the White House meeting said the proposals embody all seven of the original administration provisions, but with at least two key sections weakened. They also include two controversial provisions from the subcommittee bill, but in diluted form.

They said the weakened administration proposals are those dealing with voting rights and racial discrimination in places of public accommodation. A provision for the appointment of temporary referees to register Negro voters was scrapped, and retail stores were exempted from the provision to bar racial discrimination in all public facilities related to interstate commerce.

The two sections added include the fair employment practices commission provision and another that would authorize intervention by the attorney general in civil rights suits brought by individuals.

The latter provision is intended as a substitute for one in the subcommittee bill empowering the attorney general to initiate court action in all cases of deprivation of rights. The substitute would permit him to join in civil rights suits after they have been filed.

storm dumped 1.86 inches of rain during a six-hour period Monday.

A 90-foot dragger, the Casco Bay, with five aboard, was reported in sinking condition off Portland, Maine. The Coast Guard sent aid.

The Weather Bureau canceled a hurricane watch on the New England coast and a flood warning for Long Island.

This morning radar found the center of the storm about 180 miles east of Nantucket. Ginny was moving northeastward at about 35 miles an hour, packing an estimated 95-m.p.h. punch at the center and flinging gale-force winds for 225 miles.

"The hurricane watch on the New England coast and eastern Long Island has been discontinued," the Weather Bureau said. "However, whole gale some plan must now be worked out to get at least a blacktopped surface on the heavily used gravel streets. Living conditions in these areas are almost impossible, and every effort must be made to relieve these conditions.

He said that the city is now in a better position to help improve the gravel streets due to the addition of several pieces of new street machinery, which were bought this year and that an effort would be made to get a cooperative agreement on any gravel street where the property owners are interested in blacktopping.

He said that he appreciated the prompt response from the property owners because it was necessary to make a decision on accepting the federal grant and that he didn't want it to be turned down unless he was sure that it met with the approval of the people.

Managers Meet

warnings are displayed elsewhere from eastern Long Island to Eastport, Maine. Heavy rain over portions of eastern New England brought a measure of relief to an area plagued by drought and forest fires. Bans on burning were eased.

The morning advisory indicated the Weather Bureau regarded Ginny as a diminishing threat. The bureau said the present course indicated Ginny would continue moving rapidly toward the northeast, passing along the coast of Nova Scotia.

Heavy rain fell on eastern Long Island and the New England coast and breakers pounded the Long Island north shore. Based on Ginny's present movement, New York City's six upstate reservoirs will not receive much benefit because of their inland locations, the weather man said. The reservoirs are down to about 30 per cent of their 470.5-billion-gallon capacity. The city has asked its residents to conserve water.

It was raining hard early today in southeastern New England. But since the ground was dry when the rain began, it was not expected to cause a serious flooding problem. Nevertheless, the Weather Bureau warned residents of river valleys and lowlands to stay on the alert.

63 Miners Are Brought to Safety

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Sixty-three miners trapped in an elevator shaft of one of the world's deepest to mines emerged safely Monday night to be greeted by jubilant relatives and friends.

All the miners were pronounced in good shape.

Thirteen were trapped for 12 hours in a cage nearly a mile below the surface. The other 50 spent 14 hours in another cage at the 1,000-foot level.

A mishap in the lift machinery, which fatally injured a workman, caused the cages to become stuck Monday. The accident occurred at a mine near Carletonville, 60 miles south west of Johannesburg.

A small service cage was used to rescue the miners. The cage inched its way down the shaft to the 1,000 foot level where 50 men trapped scrambled aboard.

The cage then reached the 4,800 foot level where the 13 were trapped. They, too, were hauled to the surface.

Cuba Cuts Time for Beer Sales

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Havana Radio has announced a government ban on daytime sales of beer during work-days, starting today.

Fidel Castro's Interior Ministry set 6:30 p.m. as the time Cubans can start buying their brew.

"In this way workmen can buy beer after they finish their daily work, and vagrants and parasites will not be in a position to obtain great amounts of the product," said the broadcast, monitored in Miami.

Raley's Style Shop believes in putting its customers in a mix mood, proves it with a Minx Modes collection for Fall.

Minx Modes is an excellent exponent of soft, fluid, feminine fashions. Dresses outline the figure without clinging to it. There is more couturier detail and seam than in previous Minx Modes collections. Sleeves make a big comeback for both day and evening. Waistlines rise to new heights — a la Empire. Dresses all but sweep the floor in opulent fabrics: matelasses, metallics, chiffons.

Minx Modes has another mood, too — the sportive mood that is so much in fashion. Mantled menswear fabrics; tweeds, mohairs and homespun wools are all part of this picture. The country look moves into town.

Fake fur touches are used with great effect. Pony pony or spotted cat give enormous dash to day clothes.

There are so many moods in the Minx Modes collection that all of Raley's Style Shoppe customers are bound to find that "hard to find" costume.

Watch The "Today Show," NBC Monday 28th through Friday, Nov. 1st, 7:00 to 9:00 a.m. and see Pat Fontaine wear the new Minx Modes for Fall and Winter '63 & '64. These are shown exclusively at Raley's Style Shoppe, Hope's House of Fashion.

Alcoholics Anonymous is still the best answer. Membership is open, as you probably know, to anybody who feels he has a problem with alcohol; the only requirement for membership being the desire to stop drinking.

Dear Helen: I'm a scaredy-cat, fearful of my own shadow; can't sleep without a night-light burning; bury my head in a pillow or hide in a closet at the first flash of lightning or crack of thunder. My family laughs but I can see it's getting on their nerves. To my apprehensive mind danger lurks wherever I go. Actually what I fear never happens. How can I cure myself of the obsession that it could? —Nervous Wreck

Dear Nervous: A certain amount of fear is healthy. What would happen to us physically mentally if all danger were removed from our lives? Our nerves would go slacker than uncooked spaghetti, our minds staler than last week's bread. We would undoubtedly fall into the stupor of lotus-eater serenity. There would be no need for this column. We would lose all initiative, all ambition, all compassion without danger and fear to shock us into action. However, abnormal fear is something else again. A physical check-up might be indicated. Better see your doctor.

Hanging Out the Pro Grid Weeks Wash

By MIKE RATHNET

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Hanging out the pro football wash — and San Diego's wringer certainly sprung a conspicuous leak in Sunday's upset by Oakland.

The American Football League's Western Division leaders were subjected to one of the most startling passing exhibitions ever put on — anywhere. Oakland completed only eight passes. But five went for touchdowns. Dobie Craig, Allan Miller and Glen Shaw each hauled in one touchdown pass.

For each, it was the only pass he caught.

There were so many sub quarterbacks employed on Sunday's National Football League program, you'd have thought all the first-stringers had decided to strike... Green Bay's John Roach, subbing for Bart Starr, completed 9 of 20 passes for 156 yards and one TD...King Hill of Philadelphia, playing for Sonny Jurgensen, hit 10 of 24 for 123 and one TD...Jim Ninowski, who came on for Cleveland starter Frank Rayn, went 4-for-11 for 120 yards and the Browns only score...George Izo, took over for Washington's Norm Snead and passed for the Skins lone TD while connecting on four of 11 for 54... And Don Meredith of Dallas, Detroit's Earl Morrall and Roman Gabriel of Los Angeles graduated to starting roles... Meredith hit on 18 of 49 for 290 yards and three TDs... Morrall was 12 for 16 for 230 and three TDs... Gabriel hit 15 of 25 for 251 and two TDs...

If Elroy Hirsch had Crazy Legs, Jerry Hill must have Cockeyed Legs.

Hill, one of the Colts' young and strong running backs, had a bum knee in 1961 and a broken leg in 1962. In two years, he played one game.

But 1963 started differently, and Hill made great strides. Then came Sunday. He fumbled a punt that led to a Green Bay field goal and a 20-3 lead Baltimore never overcame.

Here's how it happened: As Green Bay moved into punt formation, Hill trotted back to receive. Somehow his legs played trick or treat a couple of days early, and when the ball came down, Hill caught it — right on his ankle.

Hill, however, escaped serious injury. Except to his pride.

That Helmet Better Be a Good One

CHICAGO (AP) — Of course, you never got hit in the head with a ball swung by Mickey Mantle.

But that's as much force as a college football player receives on his helmet each time he crashes into an opponent.

The helmet is subjected to blows of more than 5,000 times the force of gravity. This is considered the same number of G's a baseball encounters when it is slammed for a home run by Mantle.

The figures were reported today by Dr. Stephen E. Reid, an associate professor of surgery at the Northwestern University Medical School in a talk before the National Safety Congress.

Reid, a star guard on Northwestern's 1936 Big Ten football team, has been studying head injuries in football for two years.

In this fall's Northwestern games, fullbacks Bill Swingle and Steve Murphy have been wired with miniature electronic gear in their helmets and shoulder pads. The packet measures the blows, converts them into electrical impulses and broadcasts them by an FM radio in the shoulder pads to a telemetry station in the press box. The entire device weighs six ounces.

In the booth, the impacts are recorded on a high-speed, direct-writing oscillograph.

"The study has been undertaken to determine how efficiently helmets protect the head and how the equipment can be improved," Reid said.

Next step will be to incorporate a device to record the effects of impacts on the player's brain during a game.

50 Goal Season Is in Reach

MONTREAL (AP) — Montreal's Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion may be headed for another 50-goal season in the National Hockey League if he can maintain his league-leading scoring pace.

League statistics today showed Geoffrion, Canadians' teammate Jean Beliveau and Chicago's Stan Nikita tied for the scoring lead with 12 points each.

Geoffrion, 32-year-old right wing, won the NHL scoring title with 50 goals and 45 assists in the 1960-61 season but has scored only 23 goals in each of the last two seasons.

The Black Hawks Glenn Hall took over the goaltending lead with a 2.13 goals against average. Toronto's Johnny Bower is second at 2.17.

Ann Kenyon: Surgeon

By Adeline McElfresh

Distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Assn. © 1960 Adeline McElfresh

THE STORY: Dr. Ann Kenyon, resident surgeon at Rocky Head General Hospital, has the first stirring of doubt that she is in love with Dr. Brill Crayden.

The hills, running swiftly backward from the train, were snow-draped and beautiful; the small New York State towns at whose depots the train paused briefly, like some great breathless bird, had been snowed upon too. With a whisper of a sigh, Ann turned from the window.

"I know how you feel, honey," her seat companion sympathized, and as Ann summoned a wan smile, "It always shows when a person has lost someone."

Ann felt the start leap through her. "I've been sitting here all this time wondering if I should say anything about it."

"It's all right."

The woman, a portly, plain soul, accepted that, but only for the time, Ann suspected. She kept her sigh inaudible. She didn't want to talk, especially she didn't want to talk to a person so discerning—and so wrong. She hadn't lost Brill. It was just that they—she—she closed her eyes on the sudden smart of tears. Brill was right. What was the matter with her anyhow? It wasn't as if they weren't both adults.

Sensing the woman's eyes upon her, Ann opened her own in time to surprise them slipping away. She wished she had waited for the upper berth she could have had on a train leaving a few hours later. But they had been calling this one, and the prospect of waiting—

Beside her, after a long time, the woman stirred. Uneasily, Ann thought and wondered why she should have. "I'm Matilda McAnderson." The introduction surprised Ann, coming as it did after all these hours of sitting side by side in near silence; until now, the woman had been content to keep the walls of her small world pulled close and Ann had been too immersed in her own gnawing misery to care. "If anything should happen—"

Thinking, she's frightened, poor thing, as scared of trains as I am of planes, Ann said warmly, "Don't be nervous. Nothing is going to happen."

"I don't know. I didn't sleep a wink last night, and if my sheet had been my shroud it couldn't have seemed any more real."

"You probably ate pickles and pistachio ice cream for dinner," Ann smiled.

"No. I had braised pork chops and— You don't believe me." A pudgy, brown-freckled hand patted Ann's, which held the medical journal she had pretended to read when she wasn't lost in the hills and the far-reaching valleys beyond her window. "I don't blame you, honey, so don't worry. People who don't have second sight never understand. My grandfather didn't, and he lived with my grandmother for 63 years. Neither did my father, nor do my three sisters and two brothers, though I don't know to this day why my grandmother picked me to pass it along to."

She smoothed her sensible tweed skirt with obvious, if nervous, pride.

Ann had read something of psychical research and of the psychokinesis studies that have been carried on at Duke University for years, but to have for a seat companion a woman who actually claimed second sight! She asked, "Do you mean she just—gave the power to you?"

The woman nodded. "Called me to her bedside before she died and told me someone in the family should have it, someone in our family always has had, from the beginning, and she had selected me. Some day I would know why, she said, and some day I must pass the gift along." She drew a deep, shuddery breath. "I tell you, Miss—"

"Kenyon," Ann supplied and the woman went on, "I was scared. I knew Granny Moll was dying before that, but the minute her hand was on my head and her eyes were burning into mine I knew when it would be. At three next morning, before day was even gray in the east."

Oh, no, Ann moaned to herself. Controlling her unbelief and the smile that plucked at the corners of her mouth, she said, "When did she die?"

Would be days, perhaps even weeks, afterward, of course. When the old lady had worn them all, even her favored granddaughter, to a frizzed end.

"The hand of the clock was straight up at three, that next morning."

Ann didn't say anything. The poor woman was so serious, she so obviously believed herself possessed

The Farm Family of the Year!

Farm Family Program
Now in 17th Year

The Farm Family of the Year Program is now in its seventeenth year, giving recognition to farm families in each county who are doing an outstanding job in farming, home improvement, and leadership.

This program is sponsored by the Arkansas Press Association and the Arkansas Power & Light Company, in cooperation with the agricultural agencies.

Families to receive the honor of being the "Farm Family of the Year" for a county are selected by a county committee made up of members from agricultural agencies, representatives from banks, chambers of commerce, and other businessmen who are interested in promoting agriculture.

Approximately 70 counties participate each year in the Farm Family of the Year Program, which is rated as one of the most successful recognition programs for agriculture in existence today. In each of the five districts county winners compete for district honors and from these five districts, a state Farm Family of the Year winner is named. Plaques are awarded made to families who win district honors.

All of the families participating in the Farm Family of the Year Program will be invited to a luncheon in Little Rock early in December. At this meeting the state Farm Family of the Year will be announced and awards will be made.

Mr. & Mrs. Autrey Wilson Named
Hempstead's Farm Family of Year

Mr. and Mrs. Autrey Wilson of Hope Route 4 have been named "Farm Family of the Year" for Hempstead County for 1963. The Wilsons operate a Grade "A" Dairy and Beef Cattle farm utilizing 448 acres for grazing and hay crops. own 163 acres of land and lease 285 acres.

Mr. Wilson, 51 years old, has been a farmer all of his life and has spent his entire life in Hempstead county. He started out as a tenant farmer and bought his present place 29 years ago. His first dairy operation started with one cow from which he sold milk and butter to regular customers and increased, as finances permitted, to his present herd of 70 cows, 50 of which are registered Jersey.

He expects to have his herd up to 100 cows within the next two years. For a number of years he operated a retail milk route in Hope but has, within the past few years, been selling his output of milk to the larger milk processors. In addition to his dairy herd he has started a beef herd with 28 young cows half jersey and half hereford. He expects to increase this number considerably within the next few years.

Mr. Wilson is a firm believer in good agricultural practices and is always seeking out and using the latest approved farming methods. He is presently planning the installation of a modern pipeline milker with push button automatic washer at his dairy barn, and a new tool shed for his farm equipment.

The Wilsons are considered to be one of the most active farm families, with respect to community activities, within Hempstead County. Mr. Wilson is presently serving as President of the Hempstead County Farm Bureau, a deacon and treasurer of the Unity Baptist Church, teacher of the Senior Men's Bible Class, serves on the Hempstead County ASC Committee, an active member of the Hempstead County Dairy Association, is a past director of Central Arkansas Milk Producers Association and a Master Mason. Both Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are members of the local chapter of the Eastern Star.

Agriculture Is Important to Economy of the County

Agriculture has been the economic backbone of our state. Only since 1960 has the income from industry equalled that of agricultural products. Agriculture has set the pace for increased production efficiency. During the decade of the fifties, the output of the average farm worker increased more than three times that of the factory worker.

This increased efficiency has provided America with a food supply unequalled by any other country in the world. The American homemaker spends about $20 out of each dollar for food, while in Great Britain food takes over 30 per cent of the family's income; in Italy, 45 per cent; Russia, over 60 per cent; and in most parts of the world 70-80 per cent. The American farmer gets only $.39 of the dollar that is spent for food at the grocery store.

Arkansas is keeping pace with the rest of the country in advances in agricultural production. The income per farm in our state is 5 per cent above the national average.

Arkansas produces 14 crops and agricultural products, each of which sell for more than a million dollars annually.

This state is first in the nation in the production of rice, second in broiler production, and one of the leaders in cotton and soybean production.

With an average investment of $42,000 per farm, agriculture is big business and will always play an important role in the economy of our state.

Only the winless (in league play) Camden Panthers remain in the path of the on rushing Hope Bobcats in their bid for the 1963 Div. 4AA football championship and these two teams meet Friday night at Camden. Even an upset loss by the big Bobcats probably would not knock them out of the title because they have defeated the next team in the standings.

While the Bobcats are out to nail down the title other conference action will pit Smackover at Crossett and Fairview at Magnolia. In non-league play Malvern is host to Sheridan.

The Hope Cats were challenged again this past week as they had to work hard for a 26-20 win over the Magnolia Panthers. In fact for two straight weeks the Bobcats have had to show their championship potential in winning. But then that is what makes a champion.

In other results last week, all non-league, Smackover defeated Hot Springs 13-7, Fairview whipped Bearden 28-0, Camden lost to Pine Bluff 32-0, Malvern defeated Arkadelphia 19-6, and Crossett lost to Bastrop, La., 21-0.

Ted Roberts of Smackover maintains his individual scoring leadership but only by a single point margin. Roberts has 43 points and Mac McLarty of Hope has 42. Tommy Taylor of Smackover moved up to third with 36 points.

After this week Hope will finish out their schedule with non-league Gurdon, Arkadelphia, and Nashville. The other 4AA members will scramble for the runner-up spot.

Grid Play

Saturday night at K-Park, despite the dust, the Grade School Footballers entertained a large enthusiastic crowd with, first, an offensive show, and later, a defensive battle.

In the first game, the Whites finally outscored the fast improving Gold team 25 to 19, in a game marked by several quick opening "long gainers" that were really crowd thrillers. Several times in the game, both White and Gold backs broke open for gains of 40 and 50 yards and a touchdown. On the 30 yard wide field at K-Park you have to go up the middle when the defense is spread almost halfway across the field, and when you run the middle, you have to block and that's exactly what both teams did and did well.

Then in the second game, a Red team that had been beaten 30 to 6 by the Blues at Hammons Stadium last Thursday night in an exhibition game, came out determined not to have this repeated and the results were defense and more defense, since the Blues haven't been noted for giving much ground all year. And finally, the Blue team, with its balanced backfield and big, fast line, outlasted the Reds for the win. The Reds threatened several times, but each time a big Blue lineman would shoot through for a crucial setback.

Anyway, the crowd seemed as well pleased, because they deserved to be. Every fan present came ready to donate to the cause, and did so very willingly and unselfishly. The league got the money it needed and the fans got a good show. And weather permitting, the Blues play the Gold at 7:00 next Sat. night, and the Reds and Whites at 8:15.
